

CARUSO

World-famous Tenor, says:

"Tuxedo completely satisfies my tobacco taste. It is mild and has a delicious flavor. Most important of all, from a singer's standpoint, Tuxedo does not irritate my throat."

Enrico Caruso

"Tuxedo Does Not Irritate My Throat"

The non-irritating quality of Tuxedo which Caruso praises is due to the original "Tuxedo Process" by which the tobacco is treated. This process refines the tobacco and absolutely removes all bite and sting.

Many thousands of men think they cannot smoke a pipe, for fear the tobacco might burn or parch their mouths. Tuxedo has done away with any such possibility. You can smoke Tuxedo all day long, without any irritation whatsoever—indeed, with increasing pleasure.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

is made from rich, mild, fragrant Kentucky Burley—acknowledged to be the finest pipe-tobacco in the world—aged until it is pipe-perfect and smokes coolly and slowly.

You cut off an inch of inspiration and real joy every hour you stay away from Tuxedo. Because it's so good, so true, so delicious, so fragrant, its memory lingers every time your smoke-appetite gets tuned up.

MORRIS & COMPANY MAKE RADICAL ADDITIONS TO THEIR "SUPREME" LINE

An important step in the marketing of food products is seen in a recent announcement of Morris & Company. Having established a reputation for high grade goods in their supreme Hams and Bacon, this firm, through the methods of their distribution and sales force, is endeavoring to enlarge their line with the addition of products that have no direct relation to packing house products, such as Eggs, Poultry, Butter, Sardines, Sauerkraut, Evaporated Milk, etc.

A forecast of the success of a move like this is to be found in the attitude which the dealer assumes toward it. If it affords him and his customers an advantage to be sought for, the venture will receive his heartiest support and co-operation.

That Morris & Company took this factor into consideration in planning the enlargement of their line of food products is evidenced in the manner in which it affects both the dealer and the consumer.

In the first place, the dealer is protected in the point of quality. He can supply his customers with a line of goods that bears the brand of unquestionable quality. In the second place he can make his purchases for these goods in a more economical manner. Buying goods of this character from a half dozen sources means heavy freight bills. Buying them from one source means a reduction in the number of shipments and consequently smaller freight bills.

It is evident that all this works to the advantage of the consumer.

It means much to the housewife to know that she can buy so many food products of daily use with the same as-urance that she has bought her ham and bacon. Likewise it is important to the dealer to be able to supply these goods to his customer—and to be able to buy them with economy that makes their handling all the more satisfactory.

Although Morris & Company's move may be regarded as a radical step to be taken by a packing house, it is nothing more than the logical results of trade conditions which the name Supreme has created. It is simply a matter of taking advantage of a demand and the suitable facilities of supplying that demand.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

LONGWORTH CHECK TO CHARITY WAS BOGUS
Cincinnati, March 28.—A check for $1,000 bearing the name of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, received by the Cincinnati branch of the commission for the relief of destitute Belgians, brought considerable joy to the local members of the commission yesterday. Today, however, it was ascertained that the check was a forgery, that Congressman Longworth had not sent it, that no attempt had been made to imitate his handwriting on the check and that it was made

PERPETUAL MOTION STILL SOUGHT FOR

PATENT OFFICE, IT SEEMS, CAN NOT CONVINCE INVENTORS SUCH A THING IS AN ABSURDITY.

Amid the thousands of evidences of human ingenuity and human delusion with which the United States patent office comes in contact every year, none is more surprising than the persistent vitality of the perpetual motion craze.

Although it might be supposed that the absurdity of perpetual motion in practical mechanics had been exploded long ago, every patent attorney can cite cases to show that even in this twentieth century of scientific enlightenment many a deluded inventor is still trying to get a mechanical something out of nothing.

Application for a patent costs a fee, which cannot be recovered if the patent is not granted. It is to save these fees, which amount to thousands of dollars every year, that the commissioner of patents has made a benevolent ruling. Reputable patent attorneys usually tell the inventor that he is wasting his money in making application, but experience has shown that it is generally impossible to convince an inventor that his schemes are impracticable, so that many an attorney, much against his will, is compelled to prepare specifications and claims which relate to an invention that is inoperative.

In the past it has been the practice of the patent office to demand a working model from the inventor of perpetual motion machines. The man who cannot be convinced by an attorney that his machine is inoperative is not likely to be discouraged by such requirements. The result is that many an inventor spends hundreds and perhaps thousands of hard earned dollars in trying to build an operative perpetual motion model—a task which any one with an elementary knowledge of mechanics can tell him is hopeless.

The commissioner, in order to spare the inventor the necessity of parting with at least the government fees for an application, which must inevitably be rejected, has decided that hereafter no application for a patent on a perpetual motion machine will be considered at all unless a working model is filed in the very first place.

The exact wording of the commissioner's ruling is as follows: "The views of the United States patent office are in accord with those of the scientists who have investigated this subject and are to the effect that such devices are physical impossibilities. The position of the office can be rebutted only by the exhibition of a working model. Were the application to be forwarded to the examiner for consideration he would make no examination as to the merits, but his first action would be the requirement that a working model be filed."
"In view of the circumstances, the commissioner has instructed that re-
